

Realmuto
10/761,979

In the Specification

Page 2, change the following paragraphs in the middle of the page to read as follows:

--A power factor correction circuit means adjusts the power factor of the unit to a specified value.

--~~An anti-islanding means including~~ Anti-islanding analog and/or digital logic circuits are is used to detect loss of connection to utility grid or external synchronization source.--

Page 2, change the next to the last paragraph to read as follows:

--A DC isolation circuit means electrically isolates DC output from AC input.--

Page 6, after the paragraph extending on page 6, lines 9 through 33, add the following new paragraph:

--Bi-directional line 20 permits sinking and sourcing of power from DC Isolation 8 or DC Load 11 with Alternate DC Source DC/DC Converter 9.--